

How do I check my account resource usage?

You can view traffic and disk space usage (both current values and statistics) for your server on the side panel of the Account Admin Control Panel.

Traffic usage is calculated from the beginning of month.

We recommend to check the resource usage regularly.

Note: The Resource Usage section is available only if your server is in 'Running' state.

1. Click on the Resources Usage. The Resource Usage page will open.
2. The Current Values tab allows you to view the current values of your VPS Container resources usage and corresponding limits. Both numerical and graphical representations are shown.
3. The Hard Disk Statistics tab allows you to view the historical values of the System resources usage and corresponding limits in graphical representation. Use the drop down menus on the bottom of the screen to query hard disk usage within a specific range of time.
4. The Traffic Statistics tab allows you to view graphical (and tabular) representations of the System traffic usage. Use the drop down menus on the bottom of the screen to query traffic usage within a specific range of time.

<https://kb.in2net.net/questions/35/>